Self-Feeding Cotton Gins.

We are now prepared to furnish these Celebrated Gins, and parties who intend buying this season are respectfully requested to send in their orders now. The advantages of this Gin are:

that it is most economical; requires the attendance of no experienced ginner and disperses with the labor of one hand; will pick more Cotton in a given length of time than any other Gin in use: never BREAKS THE ROLL, thereby losing no time and making a more even and better sample; will run longer without whetting or sharpening; the Self-Feeder will not carry to the saws any hard substances that will injure them, such as rocks, nails, sticks, hard unmatured bolls, &c., which also render the danger from Fire much less: picks the seed cleuner than any other Gin in use, thereby making larger yield. Before buying any other Gin

THE RECENT FATAL DIFFICULTY IN BEAU ORT COUNTY.—The Washington Echoof this week contains the full particulars of the late disturbance at a political recting at Blount's Creek, in Beaufort county, from which we make the following ex-

For several days last week rumors were current of a probable difficulty between the whites and blacks at Blount's Creek, in this county, at which place the candidates of the two parties were to meet on Friday for discussion. It was evident that wicked, cowardly, designing white men were busy sowing the seeds of trouble, riot, blood shed and murder, among the poor, gulled, duped, but excitable blacks, and that the fruits of their labor might be looked for at the place named above. At South Creek the patience and forberance of the whites, and the absence of the chief spirit of mischief, warded off the impending danger, but on Friday, at Blount's Creek, the worst anticipations were realized, and the result was-murder. The responsibility for the occur-rences of Friday rests upon the heads of certain dirty, leading Radicals. J. B. Respess, in speaking, made declarations in regard to opinions ut-tered by Cobb in his discussion with Capt. Jarvis, in Washington, which were entirely devoid of truth. He was interrupted in those statements by some two or three gentlemen, among them, Mr. Bogart, Local of the Echo. Instead of Respess confin-ing himself to the question in dispute, made, in reply, a low, dirty, coward-ly, personal attack upon Mr. Bogart, and the Echo, using language to that gentleman that he would not dared to have uttered had he not supposed himself guarded by his negro allies and friends. Mr. Bogart promptly charged him with being an "infamous liar," at the same time advancing towards Respess. Respess took no exception to the language of Mr. Bogart, but seemingly regarded the matter as a jest. There was no earthly danger of a collision when Respess was a party, and the matter would nave died there, but for an advance made by the negroes towards the place occupied by Mr. Bogart, which was a signal for a similar movement on the part of the whites. Mr. and, without any provocation whatever, was assailed by a negro in the most insinuating manner.

The audience had gathered in the lower room of a saw mill, and there was little room for fair play. Mr. Moreslender aimed a blow at the negro with a stick which he had in his hand, but the beam overhead caught the stick in its course and his assailant escaped. The negro imniediately seized a crow-bar that was near and dealt Mr. Morslender a severe blow on the head, inflicting an ugly wound, but, fortunately, not fracturing the skull. A negro, Austin Gaskins, then drew his pistol and fired at the whites, the ball taking effect in the side and entering the intestines of Mr. Marsal Kerman, a onearmed ex-confederate soldier; his wound is thought to be fatal. The next shot was made by H. E. Stilley, who took aim at Capt. Thompson, the Democratic candidate for the Legislature, who was standing quietly some distance off. Captain Thompson saw Stilley deliberately pointing his weapon, saw the flash, and felt the bail when it struck him on the head. Stilley denied having fired at all, until made to produce his pistol, when three chambers were found empty. The shooting was pretty rapid for some two or three minutes, fifteen or twenty shots having been fired, mostly by the negroes, who were nearly all armed, whilst but few weapons were in the hands of the whites. Mr. Thomas Carrowon, standing on the outside of the crowd, was selected for a target, and three bullets whistled past; he began a retreat, but returned the fire of his assailants while being pursued, and fortunately escaped unhurt. One negro was seen to aim and coolly discharge his pistol at the crowd, and was arrested before he could escape. The mill was soon cleared, many the blacks seeking the cover of the swamps and such other places of concealment as they could find. Some three or four were wounded, but none dangerously. Austin Gaskins and the assailant of Mr. Moreslender, have been lodged in jail, and Stilley is under a bond for his appearance. We would also state here that Mr. Carrowon, Mr. Wm. Adams and Mr. Ed. Winfield are also under bond for their appearance. The attempt upon the life of Capt. Thompson deserves exemplary punishment; it was a cowardly assault upon a. unoffending and an unprepared man, and the crime merits, and should receive, the heaviest penalties of the law. Mr. Moreslender's assailant declares, since his arrest, openly, that his purpose was to kill, and that he would do it again.

GOV. VANCE'S TRIP TO THE EAST. -Gov. Vance returned through this city yesterday afternoon from his Eastern trip, and will fill his appointment at Concord to-day. He has been occupying his time well since he left here Monday afternoon, speaking in Goldsboro that night, in Clinton, Sampson county, Tuesday, at Saratoga, Wilson county, Wednesday afternoon, and at Greenville, Pitt derstand the challenge will be county, on Thursday. At the latter place only 24 hours notice had been the terpsichorian art repairing to a given, and he was greeted with a platform which had been erected in crowd of 1,500 people. Returning the yard of Mr. Adams, but how late from Greenville to Wilson yesterday this was kept up we know not, as we turned our face homewards.

The occasion will be remembered awaiting the train. He represents awaiting the train. He represents by those whose privilege it was to the finest feeling in every section in and left the house. Whereupon Tim

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.—The following additional decisions of the Supreme Court were filed yester-

Bradshaw, Ex'r, vs. Brooks, from Person. Settle, J., delivering opinion. Judgment reversed.

A placed in the hands of B a bond for collection. Subsequently B married A's daughter. After the marriage, and before July 1868, B collected the bond and tendered the money to A, who declined to receive it, saying to B, "keep it you will need it." Afterwards A died, and on a suit by A's executor against B for the money so collected, it was held: That B's wife is a competent witness to prove that her father declared the amount of the bond was an advancement to B. The Court say, "The old idea that the legal existence of the wife is merged into that of the husband be-lours to the past in North Carolina, so far at least as her rights of property are concerned." Sprinkle vs. Forte, from Wilkes. Judgment reversed. Bynum. J., delivering opinion.

In the charge to the jury by the Judge in the Court below, his Honor sasd he "had not fully apprehended what connection certain evidence had with the issue in the case.' asmuch as, in the opinion of this Court that evidence tended to illustrate the issue, this remark of his Honor was calculated to mislead and prejudice the minds of the jury and was error.

Norment, Adm'r, vs. Parks, from Mecklenburg. Judgment affirmed. Settle, J., delivering opinion. The Judge in the Court below rightly allowed this case to go to the jury, and this Court sees no reason to disturb the verdict. SIX NEW COUNCILS.—Rev. George Badger Wetmore, the President of the State Council, Friends of Temperance, organized six new Councils of that order last week, to-wit: Elk Shoal, No. 217, Iredell county; Shady Grove, No. 218, Alexander county; Rocky Spring, Nc. 217, Alexander county; Stony Point, No 220, Iredell county; Fancy Hill, No. 221, Iredell county, and Cool Spring, No. 222, Iredell county. We should call that a good week's work for a clergyman who serves regularly four churches besides doing a vast amount of pastoral work.

MAJOR DUNHAM IN THE CUMBER-LAND CANVASS .- Major Dunham, editor of the NEWS, has been in Cumberland county for the last two days. He spoke at Fayetteville on Wednesday night to a crowded house, and on Thursday spoke in the 71st Township to a large crowd. He was pleased to find the people of that county so thoroughly alive to the importance of the present issues, and is assured that Cumberland will make a heavy gain over the vote of 1872.

SERIOUS STABBING AFFRAY AT EGYPT.-We learn that at the speaking of the county candidates at Egypt, Chatham county, on Thursday, a serious if not fatal disturbance took place between Allen Clark and Orren Burns, both white, in which the latter was seriously if not fatally stabbed at the hands of Clark. There was nothing of a political character in the affair, it being the result of a long standing family feud.

Dr. Walter Broddie, of Edgecombe, and Miss Ella Ricks, of Nash, were married Thursday morning.

J. Allen Blake and J. Allen Ketchey have both been hanged in North Carolina—for parting their names in the middle. So says the Richmond Enquirer. The merchants of Wilmington are

The Milton Chronicle editor wants to eatch Madame Rumor by the nape of the neck and the pedal extremities and chuck her in the river some night. Why, what's the matter?

Says the Milton Chronicle: "Rumley Lawson, (colored) tenant of A. Lawson, Esq., near Roxboro, in Person county, while ploughing in the field last week, saw a drove of foxes and their young ones (10 in all) approaching him and fearful of their country him have a unhitched frightening his horse, unhitched him and tying him to a bush, they reached him and all made an attack upon him at once by running up his back, pulling off his hat, scratching his head, etc. He seized a piece of broken rail to defend himself and succeeded in making short work of 4 of them, the rest taking to their heels. This is an actual fact. Mr. Lawson is as a reliable farmer as there is in Person county, and brother of J. J. Lawsou, the grocery merchant of Danville, and vouches for this story. He has the skins of the foxes to exhibit to the credulous at any time. It is said by old farmers not to be anything unusual for foxes to attack persons who come to catch their young ones." A Plymouth correspondent of the Norfolk Landmark gives the following additional particulars of the recent-disturbance in Beaufort county, to which we have already alluded: The political contest is warm in this Congressional district. At a Republican meeting yesterday at Blunc's creek, Beaufort county, while John B. Respess was speaking, D. N. Bogart, Esq., asked him to explain Mr. Cobb's position on the civil rights bill. Respess replied that Mr. Cobb must explain his position on the bill for himself, and would do so from his various appointments in the district. This answer did not give satisfaction, and a general melee ensued. Pistols and knives were freely used, and some twenty shots were fired one shiking Mr My My Ecca by all who know him."

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Hon. W. M. Robbins is making a thorough canvass of his Congressional District. The Wilmington Journal heads an editorial article, referring to Russell: "A Judicial Beauty-Look at Him." Senator Ransom spoke at Farrell's, in Nash, on yesterday, and will address the people of Johnston, at Selma, on Tuesday. Capt. Swift Galloway denies the re-port that he had joined the Republi-can party, and dec'ares himself opposed to any man or set of men in avor of the Civil Rights bill. The Goldsboro Messenger makes this contrast: "Wayne county, under Radical rule, is heavily taxed, and county orders can only be disposed of at a sacrifice. Duplin, under Conservative control, is lightly taxed, and her orders command full value. Five years of Conservative rule in Wilson county has reduced the debt of the county from $17,000 to $3,200, an t increased the value of her orders from 50 cents to 100 cents on the dollar. The Radical Board of Commissioners spent $22,000 in two years. The expenditures under the Conservative Board for four years amount to $25,000. We have information from trustworthy sources that we will make large gains upon the vote of 1872 in the counties of Cumberland, Harnett, Moore, Montgomery, Bladen and Robeson. The sturdy Scotch of this region can't stand the civil rights bill, and are aroused to a degree of enthusiasm seldom known there. Hurrah! hurrah! the Campbells are coming!

The number of Conservative votes which Judge Buxton will receive grows small by degrees and beautifully less. The people see the necessity of maintaining the party organization, and the pretence of non-partizanship on Judge Buxton's part has been thoroughly exposed. Mr. Ful-ler has added largely to his populari-ty, and being Judge Buxton's peer in every qualification necessary for a Judge, he deserves the support of every Conservative voter in the Dis-

The Richmond Enquirer says of the election in this State next week: North Carolina has according to the record a handsome majority of white voters; hence there is no just reason why she should not look forward to complete success in electing a sufficient number of Conservatives to put the entire control of her affairs in the hands of her true people. We have great faith in the people of the old North State. Their character, their pluck and their devotion are unsurpassed. They have proven true on every field, and we feel no hesitancy in saying they will give a good account of themselves in the approaching contest."

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

A Washington widow, who is known to have $10,000. is reported to have refused eight offers of marriage from discharged clerks in one day and two nights.

The New York papers continue the publication in detail of the examination into the Beecher-Tilton scandal. Beecher is not likely to clear his skirts of the serious charges against

To the two great questions-Who struck Billy Patterson and who killed Tecumseh another has been added. James A. Sylvester, of Austin, Texas, says that he and not General Robinson, captured Santa Anna.

The Weather Observer rejects the theory of a waterspout, causing the late terrible disaster at Pittsburg, Pa., and thinks that owing to the peculiar geographical formation of that secof the country the disaster could

Washington is still alive with rumors of Cabinet changes. Attorney-General Williams is not disposed to remain in Washington, if he can be otherwise provided for, and in that case Bristow would take his place and Hugh McCullough go into the Treasury. So says Madame Rumor.

Mr. Cyrus W. Field, of the New York World, will be accompanied on his trip to Iceland by Mr. Halstead, of the Cincinnati Commercial. The Herald expedition, under the command of Dr. I. I. Hayes, the selebrated Arctic explorer, will make a thorough examination of the island.

The mystery of little Charlie Ross' abduction continues to agitate the country, but no clue has yet been obtained of either his whereabouts or of his abductors. The sense of the community of Philadelphia is against paying any ransom, as to do so would only encourage a repetition of the

As an incident of the late disaster, the following is given: "A baby was found in a crib floating on the Ohio river at the head of Montgomery is-land, thirty-two miles below Pittsburg, Tuesuay afternoon, and was received by Mr. Allen, who lives near the island. The child is living, but has not been identified." A baby is about to make its debut in Rio Janeiro whose appearance may make a difference. The Count d'Eu and the Princess Imperial have arrived from France to fulfil the constitutional clause which prescribes that the heirs of the throne shall be born in Brazil. If the child is a male he will set aside the sons of the younger sister, the deceased Princess Leopoldina.

The Richmond Dispatch is waging a fierce war on General Mahone, President of the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Railroad. It says of him: "General Mahone is more of a politician than a railroad man-it has come to that that people now ask how Mahone stands for this man or that man—and even little clerks fear their fates in committees of the Leg-islature. They are afraid that there may be a Mahone man too many on the majority side, and if they say a word in opposition to General Mahone they will lose their places. There is not a State office filled, we believe, that he does not have something to say about. His finger is in every pie. In short, he has tried to run the Legislature. He wants to control legislation, and to be able to prevent the passage of what he don't like and secure the passage of what he wants. Is there any one in the State who does not know this?"

A serious conflict is likely to ensue to-day between the Postoffice Depart-ment at Washington and the President of the Railroad between Washington and Philadelphia. The latter has notified the Department that un-less his demand for increased pay for carrying the mails is acceded to by to-day, the postal cars will be withdrawn from the road, and the mail bags piled into the baggage cars, as they were a dozen or fifteen years ago. The Washington Star contends that the federal government has the right of "eminent domain" over all private and corporate property, and can compel lawfully chartered railroads to obey its arbitrary demands | imously adopted. and do its work without proper compensation! It advises that the postoffice department shall take possession of the railroads and use them as post roads on its account!

Capt. Samuel T. Williams' Appointments.

Capt. WILLIAMS, Democratic candidate for Solicitor for the 6th Judicial District, will speak at the following places and times. Other appointments will be made known:

At Louisburg, August 1st. At Spring Hope, Nash county, August 4th.

Civil Rights Means Social Equality.

The leaders of the Republican party, when forced from their denial of the responsibility of that party for the measure, attempt to deceive by declaring that the civil rights bill does not contemplate the enforcement of social equality, so far as it is possible for any law to control that matter. The declaration is absurd, the provisions of the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution being considered. This latter already makes the negro the equal of the white man in every civil and political right or privilege. Let us see.

He is a competent witness in every court of law in the land. He is admitted to the jury box, upon precisely the same conditions that white men go there.

He has the privilege of the ballot and he is entitled to the possession of any office to which the voice of his fellows may call him.

What further right or privilege, civil or political, needs he? And what "further legislation" is necessary to his complete enjoyment of such right or privilege under the amendment mentioned? He needs no further protection. He has the largest liberty in the exercise of every civil or political privilege; and that "further legislation" recommended by the President in his message, and by the Republican Congressional Committee in its late address, must contemplate the bestowal of social privileges or it can have no effect upon his condition. Believing such legislation will be harmful and dangerous, and violative of the Constitution, the Democratic party, in the State and nation, is unalterably opposed to this bill, or to any other having similar purpose and effect, and because of that opposition, it asks the support of every white man in the land who has any regard for the perpetuity of are voted for. our institutions and the purity and well-doing of his race. THE Fayetteville Gazette pertinently says: "The 6th of August belongs to the country, the district and the State. Let every Conservative go to the polls, and vote and work-and watch his enemies. Let nothing keep you from the performance of this great duty on election day."

megar votes are cast in the election. Republican majorities have been largely made up of fraudulent votes in the past.

Neill McKay.

NEILL McKAY, "the no kitchen, no parlor" candidate for Congress in the Third District, growing tired of the castigations he was receiving from WADDELL, the gallant leader of the Democratic forces, lately deserted the regular canvass and began "bushwhacking" in the upper counties of the District. Learning that the Cumberland county canvass would open at Rockfish on the 18th, he put in an appearance there; and, after the regular county candidates had addressed the audience, being called upon by some of his negro followers for a speech, he complied. There was quite a number of the ladies of the vicinity assembled to hear the discussion, and the fact was known to McKAY. Disregarding the promptings of common decency, he offered these ladies a gratuitous and studied insult by the narration of several anecdotes of the grossest vulgarity.

His object was of course, to gain the applause of his negro voters, and he basely pandered to the gratification of their depraved tastes, even though in doing so, he gave offence to ladies of his own race of the highest respectability and the most refined taste.

Fortunately Senator TROY, of Cumberland, was present and at the conclusion of McKay's harangue he promptly and sternly rebuked the fellow for his offence.

So great was the indignation of the gentlemen present, that a public meeting of the citizens of the township was called to give expression to their loathing and contempt for the man, who for selfish purposes, had insulted their wives, mothers, daughters and sisters. At that meeting the following proceedings were had:

RESOLUTION OF CENSURE.-At a meeting of the Conservatives of Rockfish village and township, held in the village of Rockfish, on Monday, July 27th, J. W. Emmit was called to the Chair and Gilbert Ray requested to act as Secretary.

The Chairman declared the object of the meeting to be the framing of some resolutions disapproving the indecent language used by Neill Me-Kay, Republican candidate for Congress, in the presence of ladies, in a public speech at this place on the 18th

On motion a committee of three was appointed to draw up suitable The Chairman appointed the following gentlemen on the Committee:

WHEREAS, At a meeting of the citizens of Rockfish Township, held on Saturday, the 18th day of July, 1874, Neill McKay, the candidate of the Republican party for Congressional honors in this District, in a public address to a large crowd of citizens there assembled, so far forgot the common instincts of a gentleman, and the respect always due and accorded the female sex by men of refinement and cultivation, as to offer a gratuitous insult to the ladies of this village, (a number of whom were near by) by relating in their hearing, low, vulgar and obscene anecdotes, and failing to make any apology

when called to his attention; there-Be it Resolved, That we, as citizens of Rockfish Township, do most earnestly call upon all good citizens whose manhood and chivalry have not been lost, to resent this insult to the ladies of Rockfish village by rejecting and spurning the claims of this fit representative of the Radical party for Congressional honors. Resolved, That in adding this insult to his already "No Kitchen, no Parlor" sentiment, Neill McKay has rendered himself totally unworthy to be trusted by any gentleman who values the purity and virtue of female character; and we proclaim him unworthy the vote of any white man and gentleman.

Resolved, That we return our hearty and grateful thanks to our fellowcountyman, W. C. Troy, for the prompt manner in which he stepped forward to rebuke the insult so wantonly made to the ladies of our vil-

This is another specimen of the men whom Radicalism would elevate to high and dignified positions. How striking the contrast between this conduct and that of his gallant competitor, who, lately in Washington City, compelled a Baltimore rowdy to apologize for an insult offered a lady, who was to him, an entire stranger.

Fellow-citizens of the 3rd District! Choose ye whom you will have to serve you, McKAY who insults or WADDELL who protects the virtuous women of the land.

To Poll Holders-Important .-There having been some question raised as to the meaning of the election laws, relating to the boxes necessary to be used in county elections and judicial elections, the undersigned having been many times applied to, for an opinion, construe the same as follows:

1. In county elections, but one box should be used for county officers, including Clerk of the Superior

2. In judicial elections, but one box should be used for Judge and Solieitor, in those districts where both such officers are voted for; and but one box, of course, where only Solicitors 3. But one ballot should be put in

Bless us, Mr, HEADEN! Not even the Supreme Court of North Carolina would hold that to be an office, if it did make the decision in CLARK US. STANLEY.

SHALL white children and negro children be forced into association in the same schools? Or shall separate schools be provided for the children of each race?

That is the question you are to decide in August. What shall your answer be, white men of North Car-

A vote for the Conservative candidate is a vote for separate schools—a vote for the Radical candidate is a vote for "mixing."

OBSERVE the contrast! Kentucky as a result of Democratic rule is free from debt and has a surplus in her Treasury; North Carolina caused by the sway of Radicalism groans beneath a load of debt, which she is unable to pay, and so suffers in reputation, as well as in material interests.

It is rather hard on the crusaders that water should have been more destructive of life and property this year than whiskey.

PITTSBURGH'S CALAMITY.

BURSTING OF A WATER SPOUT Streets Converted into Lakes -- Hundreds of Houses Demolished.

Over One Hundred Bodies Recovcred-Whole Families Swept Away -Scenes and Incidents.

The Pittsburgh papers naturally teem with accounts of the direful dis aster which overtook that city on Sunday, which has proven one of the most suddenly terrific on record. We glean the following particulars from the Pittsburgh Dispatch:

The weather Sunday afternoon was showery, out not portentious of unusual elemental phenomena. Citizens attended religious services as usual; and when, about 7 o'clock, the rain subsided, and the declining sun tinted the passing clouds with purple and gold, thousands crowded upon the streets, seeking pleasure or recreation, discussing the events of the day and the prospects of the morrow, came not to many Thus fell the shades of night; the Many persons, weary of the storm, people retired to rest, and "silence brooded over a still and pulseless world.' Between 9 and 10 o'clock frequent and vivid flashes of lightning in the northern heavens, accompanied by terrific peals of thunder, presaged the coming disaster. Momentarily increasing in violence, it was but a few minutes until the streets in many places were impassable; water swept down the gutters like roaring torrents: the broadest avenues were solid sheets of water; while from the hillsides poured a deluge which tore rocks of a ton's weight from their foundations and gashed and seamed the earth as if it it had been riven by an earthquake. 7 Nothing could resist the awful volume of rushing, seething water. Substantial brick houses crumbled when it struck them as if they had been made of sand; frame buildings were lifted from their foundations, borne along on the angry current, and dashed to pieces against other buildings which vainly obstructed their course. In some instances foundations were undermined and buildings sunk down in sand and debris to the second story. Fo resistless was the torrent that nothing in its path escaped destruction-houses, fences, bridges, trees, all going down before it, and combining to constitute a scene of ruin such as none had ever witnessed before, and such as we hope we may never look upon again.

But great as was the destruction of property, it is nothing in view of the loss of human life. Of those who retired to rest on Sunday evening in the stricken districts, more than two hundred were pallid corpses when the morning light broke upon the dreadful scene. More than a score of little children, who on Sunday night, kneeling at their mother's knee, lisped "Now I lay me down to sleep, realized the full significance of the petition ere morning broke, their bodies when found being in many instances dreadfully disfigured, their delicate limbs gashed and broken, their beautiful tresses disheveled and intermixed with loathsome accretions. Oh! it was a spectacle to make strong men weep, and sympathetic women tremble and turn fainting away. In some cases entire families were swept from their beds, their houses falling in ruins upon them, and all lost together.

The scene early Monday morning surpasses the power of lauguage to adequately describe. Thousands of people, many of whom had been bereaved during the night, flocked to the scene of disaster to survey the ruin and, if possible, to recover the bodies of their wives, husbands, children, or friends. Hundreds of willing hands were soon at work removing the debris, while hundreds of others, with bated breath, hoping against hope that their missing ones had escaped, awaited the issue. As body after body was taken from the ruins and was recognized, men sobbed and women wailed, while the spectators stood with uncovered heads as it was borne away. There were many such scenes. A German, the bodies of whose wife and three children were recovered and taken to his house, manifested every symptom of insanity, all the efforts of his friends failing to compose his mind. At midday his condition had not improved, and it is probable the irreparable loss he sustained has permanently unsettled his mind.

Though the fall of rain alone would have sufficed to bring a terrible devastation, it seems to be well authenticated that the principal cause of the great calamity in this locality was a ter channels. The body of water fell as under on the second range of hills, and sought a level by the way of Butcher's, Spring Garden and Wood's Runs, expanding them with almost the suddenness of a lightning as to restories of the houses are full of mud, at places to the depth of two or three feet, and the owners, unnoticed in the general excitement further down, went diligently at work to restore their habitations to an inhabitation of the houses are full of mud, at places to the depth of two or three feet, and the owners, unnoticed in the general excitement further down, went diligently at work to restore their habitations to an inhabitation of the houses are full of mud, at places to the depth of two or three feet, and the owners, unnoticed in the general excitement further down, went diligently at work to restore their habitations to an inhabitation.

THE INCEPTION OF THE DISASTER. At the junction of East street with Madison avenue, the volume burst from its comparatively narrow confines full upon the paved streets of the city, and abouteight feet in depth ushed down both the thoroughfares. Where the two came together was a narrow frame house, which first felt the force and collapsed as if caught in the embrace of a monstrous vice. A mother and three children named onnelly, and a young man named Rogers, a cripple, was swept away with the ruius. On East street the water flowed for about a hundred yards, tearing down six or seven houses, and then rolled off to the eastward and joined forces with the seething river which had laid hold of Madison avenue for a channel. On this thoroughfare, a large sewer built to receive the whole flow of the run burst with tremendous force, leaving a cavity some thirty feet in depth, and giving a new and angry impulse to the stream. For half a mile this avenue was scooped out in places twenty feet lower than the curb, tearing lamp posts from their places, and twisting them like straws in all variety of shapes. The houses on each side were flooded and the weaker ones were wrecked, and in some cases torn from their foundations; but most of them, until Vista street was reached, beld together, and the terrified occupants, huddling in the second stories, escaped a death which seemed each moment about to grasp them. At Vista street the natural valley leads to the eastward, the hill coming to a bold point, below which Butcher's and Spring Garden runs meet and flow together to the Alleghany.

IN THE FACE AND FRONT OF THE

Here, in direct line with the flood, was the slaughter-house of Mr. Sweeden, which now lies as it fell, a pile of broken, mud-stained timbers. Just below it, Concord street, graded some twenty feet above the natural bed of the stream, which it crosses by a culvert, neatly paved and well lighted, was suddenly cut in two, the gap being forty feet in width, water and gas pipes showing ragged projec tions at each side. The next parallel street is O'Hara, which falls by an easy grade to a junction with Spring Garden avenue, and which on Sunday morning was lined on both sides with neat brick and frame houses, the dwellings of persons in at least comfortable, and some of them quite affluent, circumstances. As the water, checked for a moment at Concord street, burst through the houses it precipitated itself in a vast Pluvian avalanche upon the huge culvert constructed beneath O'Hara and adjoining streets, rent it asunder with mighty force, and upcasting the surface, toppled down the solid buildings as if by an earthquake. Here he great destruction of life took place. had gone to bed, feeling no doubt glad of the shelter of the roof. The children, frightened by the lightning and the mutterings of the thunder. sought their parents, and in many instances mothers had gone to the beds of their children to lie down with them and comfort and relieve their fears. With the rending of the earth the gas pipes were torn assunder and pitch darkness came with the awful noise of the rising waters, and the quick upheaval of the foundations. The spirit of the storm passed by, and on his track was desc-lation and death; drowned mothers with their babes, and fathers clasping their sons to their arms; whol families huddled together in fear of what might come, and what did come too quick for action or even thought, were hurled away to be seen no more in life. HOW DEATH CAME TO MANY. Some had fallen into a merciful slumber before the angel of death stepped in, for in the ruins, when daylight came, stretched upon their beds, several bodies were found, only the dripping and muddy stains disfiguring what otherwise seemed voluntary repose. To none of these the sudden darkness and the noise gave warning, and it is a'l the better that they never knew what manner of calamity fell upon them.

At the foot of this street the whirling, turbulent waters mingled with those which flowed from the valley of Spring Garden Run-a valley of death to many, as the other had been.

A mile and a half above this the stream first gathered its force, near the large building known as Burns glue factory. As at Butcher's Run, sewer had been built to carry safely away the overflow of the stream, but this proved useless. For a mile the water poured down parallel to Spring Garden avenue, every moment gain-ing power and velocity, the small paved streets from High street, which skirts the hill above, acting as tribu-taries and pouring in their flow in eager contribution. On the other side of the valley the hill rises almost perpendicularly, with clayey sides, which, washing down by tons, seamed the sides as if by glaciers. At Basin street the sewer burst, and the water pouring out, rushed under the houses, tossing them in the air as a volcano would and throwing them in heaps to each side. Most of these buildings were stables and slaughterhouses, with here and there a tannery.

A CORRESPONDING SOURCE OF DIS-ASTER.

The only dwelling near this point where life was sacrificed was that of Michael Schlater, who, with his child in his arms, stepped from his front door into the flood and perished. Be-low Basin street for a quarter of a mile the people were aroused, and rushing to the hill-sides found safety, but the buildings were scattered as if blown up by powder. After the sewer burst and the water spread out from hill-side to hill-side it took Spring Garden avenue for its channel, and made it a river from six to ten feet deep, with a velocity like a mill chase. The street is thickly built up on both sides, the houses being for the most part substantially constructed. The occupants fled to the second stories, and thus saved their lives. In the rear of the east side of the street the overflow whirled and tossed, tearing out the sides of the stable, occasionally submerging and toppling them over, and pulling down hundreds of little workshops. The loss in cattle and horses here is very large, but their dead bodies burst upon the hills overlooking the lie unnoticed while the search for bucity, and poured down in overwhelming volume through the natural water channels. The body of water fell ble condition. Near Vinal street the avenue descends gradually, and slo-ping to the west widens to a triangular space, where it meets Central and O'Hara streets, and there, when the flood came down, the vortex of ruin was reached.

[The Dispatch gives at much greater length many other scenes, incidents and details connected with this terrible disaster, which resulted in the loss of more than a hundred and fifty lives, but want of space prevents our publishing more of the details.-ED. NEWS.]

The usual contradictory reports from the frontier leave us in doubt whether or not the Indian tribes contemplate a general war. It is evident from the number of outrages reported from the distant settlements that unusual agitation exists among the Indian tribes.

A 59-SAW GIN now on exhibition at our office. This make of Cotton Gin is giving perfect satisfaction wherever used. We refer to the following parties who have purchased and used them, and their certificates at length, can be seen by calling on us: A. F. Page, W. C. Page, A. B. Yates, W. E. Pell and several others.

R. F. JONES & CO., Raleigh, N. C. COTTON GINS

We are the sole agents for central Carolina for the "EXCELSIOR GIN," which is the most perfect ever offered to the public. It picks the seed perfectly clean, gins fast and makes a nice sample of cotton; the roll is shitted from the centre towards each end, gives the saws a new surface of cotton every revolution, and never breaks the roll. The simplest hand on your place, if large enough to pull the cotton in the box, can feed it all day and not break the roll, which is a new feature. All we want is a trial to convince every thinking man that this Gin will pay fer itself and the old one during one season.

A sample Gin can be seen at our place of business. Send for circular, price, &c.

The Latest, Best and Cheapest !

I offer the public the latest improved Cotton Gin, as well as the cheapest. The following certificates, from well-known g-ntlemen, will be more satisfactory than anything I can say:

NEAR CARY, N. C., Nov. 12th, 1873. This is to certify that I am using one of the Cary Gins, made by W. M. Sorrell, of Cary, N. C., and that I am well pleased with it and would cheerfully recommend it to any one wanting a good Gin.

A. B. YATES.

CARY, N. C., May 22d, 1874. I take pleasure in saying that the fifty Saw Cotton Gin, I purchased from Mr. W. M. Sorrell, known as the Cary Gin, does far better work than any Gin I have heretofore used, though costing from 50 to 100 per cent, less money. I think any person in want of a Gin will save money by purchasing the ary Gin. Its performance has been entirely satisfactory to me. I can cheerfully recommend it to others.

A. F. PAGE.

We certify that the Cary Gin has given entire satisfaction to our neighbors, who have tried 't, and we think it an excellent Gin.

Vicksburg Affairs-Ames Clamorous

for Troops. WASHINGTON, July 31st.-Despite the action of the government in refusing to send the military to Vicksburg, the executive powers of the State still persist in the statement that the public peace is endangered. Governor Ames, who has been away from his post, has returned, and today he telegraphed to President and today he telegraphed to President. Grant, reiterating in main, the apprehension set forth in the telegrams and mail advices previously forwarded by the Lieutenant Governor Davis. He makes no formal demand for troops, but the tenor of his dispatch is such as to intimate that he desires Federal troops to be called to Vicksburg on election day. In the meantime, almost every mail brings protests from reputable citizens of Vicksburg.

Marine Disaster.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 31.—The Brig Maud, from Wilmington, laden with crude, petratema, spirits turpentine and rosin arrived at St Guarge, Bermuda, July 27th, leaking badly.

Temple Bar Endangered.

LONDON, July 31.-Excavations for the new law courts have rendered Temple Bar unsafe, and all traffics under it between Strand and Fleets, is underdicted, causing much inconvenience.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON. Governor Ames, of Mississippi, Calls on the President for Troops to go to Vicksburg-The President Refuses to Comply. The following is the telegram of Gov. Ames, of Mississippi, to President Grant in relation to the Vicksburg troubles: JACKSON, MISS., July 29, 1874. To President U. S. Grant, Washington, D. C .-

I regret to inform you that I find upon returning here that a serious and alarming condition of affairs exist at Vicksburg. Infantry and cav-alry organizations exist, and it is reported that a number of pieces of artillery have been sent to the city; that these bodies organized and armed tnemselves without authority and in violation of law assume to be guardians of the peace. This is a political controversy on the side of the Democrats, represented by the whites, who claim that they tear frauds on the part of their opponents. The Republicans, consisting mainly of blacks, claim that they fear frauds and also violence on the part of the Democrats. At one time a collision | Dunn. and bloodshed was feared by all, not by the Republicans, but by the Democrats it is believed only, because they have become masters of the situation. It is also believed that they oppose the presence of troops at this time. Of this lamentable state of affairs it is now useless to speak. I only seek peace and protection for all. Can there be any serious objection why troops should not be sent there? Harrison. Middle Ward.—Wesley Whitaker, many of our cities at this moment in | gil Ricks and J D Uzzell. two of the cities of this State. Their presence may be means of good. It may save many lives, even one would | Jones and J C Gorman. more than compensate for the harm which, if any, I do not see, to result from such presence. Will it not be the least of evils to have troops there for any emergency?

(Signed,) ALBERT AMES, Governor of Mississippi. The following reply was sent to Gov. Ames to-day :

WASHINGTON, July 31, 1873.

Hon. A. Ames, Jackson, Miss.: The contents of your dispatch have been submitted to the President. He declines to move the troops, except under a call made strictly in accordance with terms of the Constitu-(Signed)

A. G. I EE & McMACKIN. MEDICINAL.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BIT-TERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases

The properties of Dr. WALK-BR'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Dia-phoretic, Carminative, Nutritions, Laxa-tive, Diuretic, Sedative, County-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious. t a. in Thousands proclaim
